KISSIMMEE, Fla. – Can’t decide what to do and where to go for vacation this year? But you know you want to enjoy a domestic vacation that stretches your dollar? More people than ever before are choosing the clothing-optional experience – a Nakation – for their 2009 vacation. The 23rd edition of the North American Guide to Nude Recreation, published by the American Association for Nude Recreation (AANR), is the best way to choose among hundreds of Nakation options in this rapidly growing, $440 million segment of the travel industry.

The guide offers information on more than 200 clothes-free and clothing-optional resorts, clubs and RV campgrounds throughout the U.S. and Canada. This handy directory gives details about the amenities available at each club such as overnight hotel accommodations, condos, cabins, park models, campsites, playgrounds, swimming pools, spas, saunas and sports courts. Each book comes with a full-color poster-sized map that pinpoints AANR clubs throughout North America.

“Anyone who has enjoyed the freedom of skinny-dipping will enjoy browsing through the North American Guide to Nude Recreation,” said John Kinman president of the American Association for Nude Recreation in Kissimmee, Florida. “Our award winning directory is the best way to choose among the hundreds of options for vacationers, from rustic camps to four-star resorts.”

The North American Guide to Nude Recreation is a 240-page, soft cover book. The book is priced at U.S. $13.95 (only $9.95 for AANR members). To order, please visit the AANR Web site at <http://www.aanr.com> or call 1-800-TRY-NUDE.
